Letter from the President

Dear Bright Beginnings Friends and Family,

It has been an honor and an immense privilege to serve as President of Bright Beginnings' Board of Directors. As I turn the pages of Our Work Continues, our 2016–17 Annual Report, I stand in awe of the scope and the importance of what our amazing organization has accomplished. I am also filled with gratitude for the generosity, talent, and dedication that made it all possible.

Our work continues because it is our mission and our passion. The entire Bright Beginnings family is committed to fulfilling the promise sparking in our children's eager smiles as they learn a song, build with blocks, turn the pages of a book, discover their world, or hug a teacher. Whether in a classroom or in our home based program, they—like children everywhere—are our future. It is our charge to ensure that future is bright and full of possibilities.

Our work also continues through family support and workforce development programs for our parents as well as health and therapeutic services for the entire family. This amazing, unique array of comprehensive services encompasses social, emotional, and physical well-being, and addresses the crippling trauma that families experiencing homelessness are often faced with.

Bright Beginnings' work is able to continue because of the incredible generosity and loyalty of our donors and supporters; the hard work of an outstanding and talented staff led by Dr. Marla Dean; and the commitment of an amazing group of selfless, loyal Board members.

Without your gifts, our programs would not be as robust and impactful. As we look forward to the ribbon cutting for our second center in 2018, we hope we can count on your continued support and partnership. It makes all the difference.

With gratitude and thanks,

Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Bright Beginnings Friends and Family,

It is my honor and privilege to serve as the Executive Director of Bright Beginnings. This has been a phenomenal year for us. We have been featured in the Washington Post Helping Hands Campaign, launched a new website, and expanded our programming to serve 64 additional children and families experiencing homelessness in Washington, D.C.

However, even with our expanded efforts, there is still a tremendous unmet need. According to the 2016 “Hunger and Homelessness” survey from the U.S. Conference of Mayors, Washington, D.C. has the highest rate of homelessness among the 32 cities analyzed. The District has 124.2 homeless people for every 10,000 residents in the general population. Furthermore, the District had one of the fastest increases in homelessness between 2009 and 2016, with a 34.1 percent gain. In fact, in Washington, D.C. alone, there are 2,700 children under the age of five experiencing homelessness.

Therefore, it is clear that Our Work Continues...

It is with your generous support that we are able to support the children and families of Washington, D.C. Thank you to Bright Beginnings’ Board of Directors, donors, funders, supporters, and champions. It is without question, you have made our work possible. Thank you to the Bright Beginnings staff who labor with love daily to serve and support the District’s most vulnerable children and families. And finally, thank you to our parents and families, who trust us daily with their children and with whom we work in earnest to support their strides toward self-sufficiency.

This year, we look forward to the opening of our second site located in Ward 8 as Bright Beginnings seeks to ensure every child is in a safe nurturing environment and they are prepared to enter kindergarten on par with their more advantaged peers.

With your continued support,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Marla M. Dean". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a long horizontal flourish at the end.

Executive Director

OUR PURPOSE

HOMELESSNESS IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Bright Beginnings serves the District's most fragile families: those with young children and without permanent housing. In 2016, the U.S. Conference of Mayors analyzed homelessness in 32 U.S. cities and found that:

Washington, D.C. has the HIGHEST RATE of homelessness out of 32 cities

124.2 HOMELESS PEOPLE

for every 10,000 residents in the general population

D.C. had one of the FASTEST INCREASES in homelessness between 2009 and 2016

2,700 CHILDREN

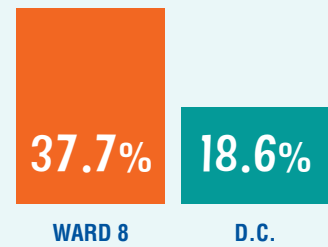

in D.C. under the age of five are experiencing homelessness

Our new center will be located in Congress Heights in WARD 8

Ward 8 is predominantly Black/African-American

THE POVERTY RATE in Ward 8 is more than twice that of Washington, D.C.

SYSTEMIC BARRIERS

include lack of social mobility; inability to consistently afford transportation, childcare, food, diapers, etc.; and other challenges

TARGETING OUR SERVICE IN THE AREAS OF GREATEST NEED

Bright Beginnings is currently in the process of transitioning to our new center, which will be located in Congress Heights in Ward 8, where disparities with the rest of Washington, D.C. are greatest. Ward 8 is predominantly Black/African-American (92%) and the poverty rate, at 37.7%, is more than twice that of Washington, D.C. (18.6%). The families we serve face a number of systemic barriers and challenges, including: lack of social mobility; the inability to consistently afford transportation, childcare, food, diapers, etc.; and more. Bright Beginnings helps to eliminate these barriers by not only providing families with free, high-quality childcare, basic necessities, and wrap-around services, but also by encouraging city officials to look at the larger need for a comprehensive approach to childcare and its connection to housing, homelessness, education, and employment, and advocating for better local and national policies that will reduce the number of barriers that families experiencing homelessness face in the long-term.

BRIGHT BEGINNINGS: A LEADER IN ADDRESSING HOMELESSNESS

In 1996, Bright Beginnings became one of 16 pilot Head Start centers dedicated to serving homeless families. As the only one still in existence, Bright Beginnings has strategies to share. Through its work, Bright Beginnings is creating a model for addressing homelessness in urban centers nationwide.

OUR APPROACH

Social justice and equity are fundamental to ending homelessness. Racial and gender inequity, past and present, is a defining reason that our families are locked in a cycle of intergenerational poverty. Helping early learners prepare for school and assisting their parents to prepare to re-enter the workforce will create a more stable environment for our families with the conditions they need to succeed in breaking the intergenerational cycle of poverty. In order to understand the fundamental, systemic issues and barriers that prevent our families from thriving, we must address these inequities. Tackling the root causes of poverty is incorporated into every aspect of our services, processes, and programming. As a result, advocacy to prevent homelessness in our community is becoming part of our work.

TWO GENERATION APPROACH TO BREAK THE CYCLE OF POVERTY

Families experiencing homelessness often face a complex set of challenges. Whether they have experienced health issues, they have been victims of violence, or impacted by structural barriers to housing stability, they are constantly worried their circumstances will jeopardize the safety of their children. Bright Beginnings takes a two generation approach to end this cycle by ensuring school readiness for early learners, as well as educational completion and workforce readiness for parents. Bright Beginnings understands that we must support our families in growing their social capital and building their economic assets – all with the goal of creating a stable home that will end intergenerational poverty.

TRAUMA INFORMED CARE TO ADDRESS LIFE LONG EFFECTS

Bright Beginnings uses a trauma-informed approach in all aspects of its work. This includes: 1) addressing the lifelong effects of trauma on children and their parents; 2) recognizing the signs and symptoms of trauma in children, parents, staff, and community members; 3) fully integrating knowledge of trauma into policies, procedures, and practices; 4) offering potential paths for healing and recovery; and 5) actively preventing re-traumatization by ensuring staff are trained in trauma informed practices.

CULTURALLY RELEVANT TEACHING AND LEARNING

At Bright Beginnings, children learn that it is important to treat people fairly and with respect and to expect the same from others. The children of Bright Beginnings are encouraged to embrace their identity by learning about their community and the world around them, engaging in activities like community walks, and local field trips; learning about both current and historical figures who have impacted their communities; and reading books that showcase diverse groups of people and offer different perspectives. Our teachers promote understanding and encourage children to appreciate the full spectrum of people's characteristics, abilities, and backgrounds.

Our families primarily come from
WARDS 5, 7, AND 8

In Ward 8, the median
FAMILY INCOME
has decreased by 17% to
$24,096 since 2014

In Ward 7, the median
FAMILY INCOME
has decreased by 10% to
$31,273 since 2014

Young children in D.C.'s poorest wards are more than more likely to live in 20X
“CONCENTRATED POVERTY”

defined by the US Census as areas with “40 percent of the tract population living below the federal poverty threshold.”

THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE
for Ward 8 in May 2017 was 13.3%, nearly double the 7% unemployment rate in Washington, D.C.

THE WORLD BEYOND BRIGHT BEGINNINGS

Bright Beginnings is a safe and stable place – often the most stable part of the lives of our families. However, our children and their parents will not always be in the protective care of Bright Beginnings. We want our families to be knowledgeable navigating the whole metropolitan area and comfortable with interacting with all the people living in it. We show our children and parents that all of Washington, DC is available to them. We expose them to the many resources, activities, and experiences that are accessible to all Washingtonians. Children and their families learn about the diversity of the city's neighborhoods and parents learn about jobs they were not aware existed and how to obtain the training necessary to seek those jobs.

BRIGHT BEGINNINGS' INSTRUCTIONAL MODEL

Teachers create lesson plans that support children's learning and development in eight curriculum content areas—approaches to learning; social and emotional development; physical development and health; language, literacy and communication; mathematics; creative arts; science and technology; and social studies.

Teachers create an engaging learning environment that supports children's play with a variety of learning opportunities that pique children's curiosity, creativity, discovery, and initiative, as well as encourage problem-solving that promotes positive self-concept and confidence in abilities. To promote a love for learning, the classroom setting includes a variety of interest areas: block area, art area, writing area, house area, toy area, science area, book area, computer area, music area, sensory area, and a 'cozy corner.' In each interest area, teachers add a variety of materials that are designed for specific types of play and are integrated with the monthly curriculum. Materials are included in relation to children's interests and, are appropriate for children's developmental levels, can be used in a variety of ways, reflect the experiences and cultures of the children present, and include a variety of real-life, and open-ended materials.

CENTER-BASED EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Bright Beginnings believes that the earliest years are the most important time of a child's life as they learn how to trust, find a sense of security, interact appropriately with other people, self-regulate their behaviors and emotions, develop early literacy skills, develop math and science skills, gain self-confidence, share space, and develop verbal and non-verbal communication skills. To implement its overall education approach, the center-based program utilizes the HighScope curriculum for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers as the foundation for all early childhood activities. Bright Beginnings' comprehensive, evidence-based education program provides children with a learning environment that helps them develop socially, emotionally, physically, and cognitively towards kindergarten readiness.

BRIGHT BEGINNINGS' EARLY LEARNING EVENING CARE

Bright Beginnings' Early Learning Evening Care Program includes our comprehensive education, therapeutic, and family services for parents working non-traditional hours or attending class or job training programs in the evening. Our evening care is available until 11:30 p.m. for children between six weeks and five years old.

In the 2016–2017 school year,
Bright Beginnings served roughly

240 CHILDREN
FROM 162 FAMILIES

SUCCESS STORY

After a number of tragic events within the course of only one year, Terrence, a single dad with three children, reached out to Bright Beginnings for support. Terrence works full-time and his children participate in Bright Beginnings' center-based program. In addition to center-based education programming, Bright Beginnings was able to provide Terrence and his family with additional support that helped them transition through a very difficult time. Bright Beginnings staff helped Terrence get his kids into a daily routine, assisted with potty-training, connected him to emergency transportation assistance, provided social-emotional support to his children, and referred their family to outside services as necessary. Terrence said that Bright Beginnings served as a reliable and consistent place of safety and security for both him and his children during what was an otherwise unpredictable and chaotic time in their lives. Thanks to Terrence's dedication to meeting his children's needs and the hard work of Bright Beginnings' support services staff, Terrence's children are now thriving in the classroom.

HOME VISITING PROGRAM

Bright Beginnings' Home-Based Program offers Early Head Start services to children and their families in whatever environment they call home. During a 90-minute weekly visit, Home Visitors meet with parents and children in the family's home environment, coaching parents on strategies to be the child's "first teacher," screening and assessing the child, and providing family support services. Bright Beginnings' Home-Based Program uses the Parents as Teachers (PAT) foundational curriculum. This is a research-based curriculum designed to promote healthy child and family development from pregnancy through age three. The curriculum has a wealth of family-friendly activities and information about a range of development and parenting topics pertinent to families of young children.

Bright Beginnings served roughly
127 CHILDREN
and families through our home-based program

SUCCESS STORY

Janet and her two children participate in Bright Beginnings' home-based program. Janet came to Bright Beginnings because she did not have stable housing and wanted to utilize Bright Beginnings' resources and programming to ensure that her children had every opportunity to access early learning. Janet worked with Bright Beginnings' family advocates to learn about different educational activities that she could do with her children outside of a classroom setting, regularly attended bi-weekly socialization events for home-based families, and consistently met with family advocates to discuss and strategize how to meet both her personal and professional goals. When Janet got a part-time job, she was also able to utilize Bright Beginnings' early learning evening care program. The evening care program's unique hours, hard to find elsewhere in Washington, D.C., allowed Janet to pick up more hours at work, which allowed her to qualify for rapid re-housing. Now, Janet and her children have a place to live, Janet's self-esteem has grown, and both Janet and Bright Beginnings staff are thrilled to watch her children progress in their learning and development.

WRAP-AROUND SOCIAL SERVICES

Bright Beginnings offers several support programs to families, including:

Mental Health Services

Bright Beginnings promotes mental health by creating a positive school climate that is encouraging, supportive and meets the needs of Bright Beginnings' children, families and staff; building the social and emotional capacity of each child; and delivering disability and mental health services to the children and families that we serve. Each child is screened within 45 days of enrollment and, based on their individual needs, receives mental health services such as one-on-one therapy, age-appropriate play therapy, and other support services.

Physical Health and Wellness Services

Children enrolled at Bright Beginnings receive free physical health and wellness screenings within 45 days of enrollment. The information collected through these assessments is used to ensure that their health and wellness needs are being met. Children are provided with free, healthy meals, engage in physical activity throughout the day, and are taught about healthy choices in the classroom.

Workforce Development Services

Bright Beginnings' Workforce Development Program supports parents in pursuing their educational and vocational goals. Parents receive advice and support in creating resumes and household budgets, acquiring life skills, pursuing new skills or certifications, conducting job searches, and getting and retaining jobs.

SUCCESS STORY

Ashley is a single mother of two, with one child enrolled at Bright Beginnings. Upon enrolling her child at Bright Beginnings, Ashley met with Bright Beginnings' Workforce Development Manager. Together, they created an employment and education plan to help ensure that Ashley is consistently moving towards accomplishing her career goals. One part of Ashley's plan was to obtain a bachelor's degree, so she enrolled in an online program and is now working towards her BA in Human Resources. Another goal of Ashley's was to obtain adequate employment in order to support her children. Bright Beginnings' workforce development staff were able to set-up an interview with the Federal Reserve Board for an office assistant job. Bright Beginnings staff helped Ashley prepare for her interview and Ashley got the job with a generous benefits package and suitable salary to help move her and her family to self-sufficiency!

OUR WORK CONTINUES

BBI's 4th Street location is taking shape and is on track to open in August 2018! Bright Beginnings broke ground on in March 2016 and as of March 2018, the framing of interior walls, plumbing, electrical, security, and HVAC installations have all taken place. The new center will have 13 classrooms, with eight children per classroom, and will allow Bright Beginnings to serve an additional 104 children.
